2. Nature and limits of services

Kaopheng Wellness provides spiritual, cultural, educational, and general wellness support. Services include readings, Reiki, candle blessings or protection, Prayer / Fev Yeeg, meditation, spiritual wellness, mentorship, and approved custom requests.

- Services do not replace medical care, mental-health treatment, diagnosis, medication guidance, emergency care, legal advice, tax advice, or financial advice.
- No reading, Reiki session, prayer, blessing, mentorship service, product, or spiritual practice guarantees a result, prediction, relationship outcome, health outcome, financial outcome, or legal outcome.
- You remain responsible for your choices, actions, safety, and use of any information discussed.
- Kaopheng declines work involving stalking, spying, threats, manipulation, revenge, harm, cheating, invasion of privacy, or control of another person's free will.

3. Booking, payment, and rescheduling

A booking request is confirmed after Kaopheng approves the service, confirms the time and price, and receives any required payment or deposit. Current communication methods include email, Google Meet, Google Chat, Facebook Messenger, and WhatsApp.

- Except where required by law, all services and products are final sale and non-refundable after payment or spiritual preparation begins.
- If Kaopheng determines before or during a session that he is unable to serve your needs or form a meaningful working connection, he reserves the right to offer a refund, exchange, or account credit.
- Disagreement with guidance, a prediction, a spiritual experience, or the result of a properly delivered service does not create a refund right.
- Contact Kaopheng as early as possible to request a new time. Repeated missed appointments or repeated rescheduling might require a new booking and payment.

4. Privacy, confidentiality, and recordings

Kaopheng treats your personal information, questions, spiritual experiences, and service details as private. Information is used for scheduling, communication, preparation, service delivery, and necessary business records. Information is shared only with your permission, when required by law, for an immediate safety concern, or with a provider supporting scheduling or communication.

- Do not record, photograph, screenshot, livestream, transcribe, publish, or share a private session without advance permission from everyone involved.
- Notes and materials from Kaopheng are for your personal use. Do not copy, sell, teach, publish, or distribute them without written permission.
- Permission to use an anonymous case summary or testimonial is optional. Declining permission does not affect your service.

5. Services involving another person

For a reading involving another person, provide the person's name and birthday when known. A reading without consent or direct participation often provides less detail and accuracy. The service remains final and non-refundable.

Direct prayer or Reiki for another adult requires consent. Without direct consent, Kaopheng offers a general prayer for wellbeing and respects the person's free will. A parent or legal guardian must consent for a minor.

6. Respectful conduct and right to decline service

Kaopheng reserves the right to decline, pause, or end a service because of threats, harassment, intimidation, disrespect, sexual misconduct, safety concerns, boundary violations, unethical requests, lack of service fit, or conduct causing discomfort. This rule applies to conduct, safety, ethics, and service concerns. It never applies because of a legally protected characteristic. Ending a service for misconduct does not create a refund right unless required by law.
